BARBOURVILLE, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1910

Seventh Year. Vol. 7. No. 39

POWERS SWEEPS ELEVENTH DISTRICT

Langley Carries the Tenth and that is all Kentucky has Saved

Hooper Breaks the Solid South and is Elected Governor of Tennessee

One of the most decisive victories ever won was that of Caleb Powers when he swept the Eleventh district by a majority of 9,316 over Mr. Bertram his Democratic opponent.

Four years ago Mr. Edwards' majority over Mr. Gatlin was 6,916, thus it is seen that for an off year Powers made a winning fight, even with Edwards, his henchmen and the Echo fighting Mr. Powers.

The following is the unofficial vote by counties as we have received them:

County	Powers	Bertram
Adair		43
Bell	500
Clinton	501
Clay	600
Cumberland	400
Casey	400
Harlan	901
Jackson	900
Knox	792
Laurel		145
Leslie	1000
Letcher	350
Monroe	650
Owsley	680
Pulaski	350
Perry	450
Russell	400
Whitley	800
Wayne		170
Total	1967	358

Powers' majority 9,316.

In the Tenth district Langley, Republican, won over Byrd by a majority of 2,157, but Bennett in the Ninth went down in defeat.

In the State of Tennessee Capt. Ben W. Hooper, Republican, was elected Governor over Bob Taylor by more than 14,000.

Judson Harmon, Democrat, was elected Governor of Ohio by about 60,000 over W. G. Harding Republican.

New York joined the Democratic rank and the game roster is crowing throughout the country.

The Democrats will control the next Congress by a decisive majority, but the Republicans will still retain control of the Senate.

The victory the Democrats are now rejoicing over will not benefit them much but on the other hand will cause the Republicans to get together for the great political battle in 1912.

We were not surprised at the result as the great prosperity that our people have been enjoying has caused them to become careless and it will take a few years of Democratic administration and free soup houses to bring them again to a sense of their duty.

leave in the same way, until they began to abuse him for going to sleep. The State's Attorney was a very warm friend of Frank's and told me that he would convict one of them for first degree murder, which means death. The other three will get life sentences, and from the facts that were brought out at the Coroner's inquest, there can be no doubt but that they will all get theirs.

The funeral was largely attended by both members of the St. Louis and East St. Louis Police Dep'ts. Also the different railroads entering the two towns were well represented by members of the Railroad Association of Special Agents and Police of the Central States, of which he was a member. Many of his friends connected with the L. & N. were there. In fact, it was one of the largest funerals I ever attended.

The parties involved in this affair were held to the Grand Jury on a $10,000 bond and being unable to give it, they were placed in the St. Clair County Jail at Belleville, Ill. I believe, Mr. Cole, that this is about all that I can tell you about the matter. It was just simply a case of cold blooded murder and I trust that every one of them will get their just dues in the next term of court, and I am confident that they will.

Yours very truly
R. F. Perry.

ST. GREGORY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

Dedicated With Impressive Ceremony; blessing of the New Church by the R. Rev. C. P. Maes, of Covington.

(Contributed)

Last Tuesday, Nov. 8th at 8:00 o'clock the new Catholic church, recently erected in this city, was dedicated with the usual impressive ceremonies on such occasions, consecration ceremonies conducted by the Rt. Rev. C. P. Maes, Bishop of the Diocese of Covington.

The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Father Theodosius, O. S. B., of Ripley, Ohio; High Mass, Rev. Fr. P. Ambrose, O. S. B., Celebrant; Rev. P. Augustine, O. S. B., Deacon; Rev. P. Clement, O. S. B., Sub-deacon; closing address by Rt. Rev. Bishop Maes D. D.

The choir of young ladies, Misses Helen Eirk, Lucile Langman, Virginia Shively, and Miss "Lies, of Corbin, sang the chants used by the church in a beautiful and impressive manner for the occasion.

The closing address by the learned Bishop was very impressive and full of meaning.

The Roman Catholic church has come into our midst and planted its vine to be nurtured and cultivated into a living, vigorous vine, and thrice welcome, we say, to any such institutions for good. This church wherever planted is a source of much good to a community. The ministerial work of Father Ambrose will begin at once, consisting of services twice a month in this church.

May the sanctuary lamp burn day and night before the Tabernacle as a beacon light to way-faring man and point to him better paths, a more consecrated life, a more ardent love for God and good citizenship, and her chimes appeal to the better instincts of mankind.

THE FACTS

Concerning the Death of Frank Cecil in St. Louis

Forester Perry Writes R. W. Cole Giving Details of the Killing

Princeton, Ind., Oct. 30, 1910.
Mr. Robt. W. Cole,
Barbourville, Ky.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of Oct. 27th to hand and I will give you as near as I can the facts in the case where Frank was shot on Oct. 24th.

It seems that he had been out during the night of the 22nd and 23rd working on a case, and some time during the night of the 23rd he, in company with two of the East St. Louis detectives, caught the man they were after and taking him to the Police Station they put him through a series of sweatings. This lasted till Monday about noon. At this point it is said they were successful in getting several confessions out of the man in charge, and of course they all being worn out, started home, but before going very far Frank suggested that they get a dish of Chilli. The other two men not caring for it, Frank went into the place where he was shot, alone. From the evidence he ate two dishes of Chilli and fell asleep. This of course was nothing more than natural, he having lost so much sleep in the two nights previous.

One of the men working in the place made an attempt to wake Frank and it appears that the employee got rather rough with him and of course Frank resented the treatment, but had started to leave the place when one of the owners came in and made an inquiry as to what the trouble was about and of course the employees made an effort to lay all the blame on Frank. Here it seems that they got into a very heated argument and one of the parties picked up a chair and hit Frank from behind, knocking him to the floor. When Frank started to his feet he made an effort to get hold of his gun and the fact was proven that three of the men held him while another shot him four times in the back. They also swore that there was only four shots fired and claimed at the same time that Frank fired one of the shots. This of course is impossible. There were three shots directly in his back near the shoulder blade and a fourth shot in his right kidney. Therefore, it is plain to be seen that they simply took all advantage of him and did all the shooting that was done. It was also shown that they shot him after they had taken his gun from him.

After he was shot and when a policeman came and a man by the name of Johnnie Myers, a friend of Frank, Frank was standing near one of the tables and pointed out to them the man that had shot him and told the officer who had held him while the other did the shooting. I am confident had they not kept nagging at him there would not have been anything to the dispute, but Frank was like any other man, he did not want to be mistreated by them.

At the Coroner's inquest it was shown that he had gone into the place in a peaceable manner and after being awakened, had started to

POWERS A WINNER.

The election has past and Powers has been elected to a seat in Congress in spite of all the abuse that could be heaped upon him. Never before in the history of Kentucky has any man ever achieved such a decided victory over such decided opposition as has Caleb Powers.

Arrested without cause and lodged in jail and kept there for more than eight years, Mr. Powers comes forth with the people still manifesting unshaken confidence in him, and after yielding to the wish of his many friends to become a candidate, the Edwards crowd who desired to keep him and themselves perpetually in office, began a tirade of slander and abuse which lasted not only until the close of the Primary but continued until the polls were closed on election day, and even those who have hitherto posed as Republicans and have been honored by the Republican party, and some even drawing a pension from the Government, even went so far in their resection as to vote for a Democrat against Mr. Powers.

It thank God there were faithful and true Republicans, men of honor and men of principle, to give him a hand, some majority over all the opposition that could be trumped up or brought up against him, and in this as in every other conflict in which he has been engaged he came out more than conqueror and even now does not hold any malice in his heart against any who opposed him, but there will be a house cleaning and some of the new jobs.

If there be one better way than another to ruin a town, it is for those who live in it to go about apologizing for its existence. There are some who are always ready to say, by their actions at least, that this place don't amount to much. They will tell you that the town is dead; that no one would think of stopping here; that some adjacent town is more respectable, more enterprising, has better people, better enjoyments, is ahead of us in everything. This is all wrong. Even if it be true, no one should ever admit it, when it comes to making a comparison. Every good citizen of this town, should take a special local pride in all that pertains to home. The schools, the churches, the amusements, the business, pleasures, the picnics, the celebrations, in fact everything should be looked on by our own people as just as good as can be gotten up elsewhere. The town that says "we can," will always succeed. The town that says, "Oh, I don't know, I don't think it will amount to much," is never of much force. If you have no local pride, borrow some.

will bring a good class of people to any town more rapidly than good schools? Parents go to your schools and see for yourselves, and don't accept idle reports about your schools and the teachers as facts.

Why Some Men Don't Marry

Our subject is not home economics as a money-earning occupation for a few women, but home economics as part of the education of all women, says William Hard in Everybody's Magazine. In that respect it does not seem likely to result in any "special feminine education" of such bulk as to withdraw women, in any serious degree, from the general education of the race. This is undeniably true, provided our observation have been correct that—

1. Home economics is at heart consumption and must be so because the home woman is more and more purely a consumer.
2. Consumption is the broadest of generalities, requiring the broadest of liberal educations.
3. So far as manual arts are concerned, the "non-academic" cookery of the girl is balanced by the "non-academic" carpentry of the boy.
4. Right living and wise spending will, to a great extent, get diffused throughout the whole educational system for boys and girls, men and women, alike.
5. If there remains (and there does remain) certain further specialization which the average girl needs in order to be a good wife, mother, and home-maker, she will get it in "finishing courses" furnished at the various levels of the educational system, when she leaves school, or else (better still) she will get it in "continuation schools" for adults to which she may resort when she is actually going to be a wife, mother or a home-maker.

Why learn really technical specialized things years and years before they are needed? Why learn them at a time when it is not certain that they will be needed at all? The modern proponent of marriage is here a controlling element.

The fact that in Boston, among women from 30 to 34 years of age, 297 out of every 1,000 (more than a quarter) are still unmarried is usually put down to a scarcity of men. That scarcity is exaggerated. Observe the comparative numbers of unmarried women and of unmarried men in that age period in Boston:

Unmarried women, 8,081.
Unmarried men, 10,651.

Observe further: The total number of men of all congenial conditions in the age period in question is 28,603.

A little work with pencil and paper will now still further weaken the scarcity theory by revealing the fact that in Boston, among men from 30 to 34 years of age, 372 out of every 1,000 are still single.—Sel.

20 Years With Heart Trouble

"Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has cured me of heart disease of over 20 years' standing. I was so bad that I could not do my work, and could scarcely draw a full breath without fainting or smothering. The doctor told me he could do no more for me; then I commenced taking the Heart Remedy. I shall never forget that night. I slept better than I had before in months. I kept right on getting better, until I was perfectly well."

MRS. LAURA RUSSELL, Logan, Iowa.

When the heart action is weak, it fails to pump the blood through the lungs with sufficient rapidity. Then the lungs do not absorb the proper amount of oxygen, although they may be taking in a normal amount of air. The result is shortness of breath, smothering spells, difficult breathing, oppressed feeling in chest. Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, and in this way increases the circulation.

Do farmers eat the proper sort of food?

The farmer of today buys a much larger proportion of the food that goes on the table than he did ten years ago. It's a good thing that this is so because he has a great variety to select from. He should, however, use great care in selecting for the best results in health and strength.

The widespread tendency in the city to increase the amount of Quaker Oats eaten is due very largely to the recent demonstrations by scientific men that the Quaker Oats led man is the man with greatest physical endurance and greatest mental vigor.

Farmers should give this subject careful thought and should increase the quantity of Quaker Oats eaten by themselves, their children and the farm hands.

HIGHLAND PARK

ADDITION

Bartlesville, - - Oklahoma.

ONLY $200.00 - $20. Cash, and
$10. Per Month
Per PAIR While They Last.

Size:--Single Lot, 25x140 feet. Pair, 50x140 feet.

Miss Carol Tye, of Bartlesville, representing the DeBell Company is now at the Hotel Jones where she can be seen for a few days only, she has a few pairs of these beautiful lots for sale at the above price to those who wish to avail themselves of this most liberal offer.

Every Lot Guaranteed to Lay High and Dry.

10 Strong Points to Consider 10

FIRST:--Highland Park's location is the highest point, having an elegant view of two cities, and overlooking the entire surrounding community.

SECOND:--Highland Park has good car service, electric light, and natural gas through the entire addition for heating and lighting purposes.

THIRD:--Highland Park has a new two-story brick school building, just completed at a cost of $7,500.00. This Land Company donated the site which was valued at $1,500.00.

FOURTH:--Highland Park will have a $1,500,000.00 cement plant in operation in the near future that will employ 300 men. A great many of whom will build homes in this locality. Local and eastern capitalists have bought a site of 270 acres within six blocks of Highland Park to locate this huge manufacturing plant.

FIFTH:--Highland Park, unlike most additions offered for sale to the public, is more than a possibility; it is a reality, it is not all prospective. Development is going on now, many homes are being built and a number of people are moving in.

SIXTH:--Highland Park is located in the only direction of the city where the public can buy high class property at a moderate price.

SEVENTH:--Highland Park is an addition to one of the fastest growing cities in the state of Oklahoma, and all additions to the growing cities have been highly successful investments.

EIGHTH:--Highland Park is an addition to the leading manufacturing city, and one among the most thrifty growing cities in Oklahoma.

NINTH:--Highland Park is a necessity, there being need of an addition moderately priced, as is this. The amount of desirable property in Bartlesville is very limited, having such a value that it is beyond the reach of a great many people.

TENTH:--Highland Park enjoys advantages right now which a great many similar properties most generally enjoy after several years of development. The advantages consist of public school, car service, electric light, natural gas, shade trees, side walks and rapid building and development.

come and trade with me.

IS BELIEVING, and if you see for yourself you are sure to be convinced. Our delight is to please our customers. If you are not one,
